Critter Outdoor Mobile kitchen station

Designed by Elia Mangia

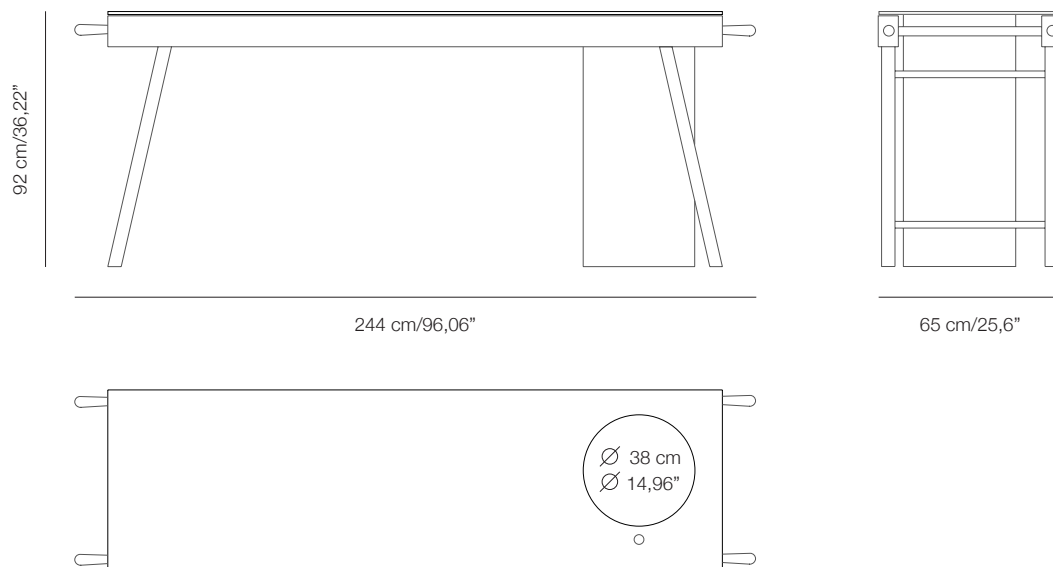

Critter is a free-standing worktop that looks to the essence of the kitchen, freeing it from all non essential components and opening it up for all to see.

Critter wants to break free from the notion that requires a kitchen to be attached to a wall and confined to a predefined area, by bringing food preparation to the centre of living spaces and restoring its convivial status, in a simple and informal manner.

In this version, specifically conceived for the outdoor, the entire structure is made of aluminium; its powder coated finish, formulated for exterior applications, is highly resistant to weathering.

The unit can be assembled in just a few minutes by tightening 8 screws.
